Sale of a detached house, Lucerne
Yvonne and Bernhard Zwiker

«We are very happy to give this reference because the work by Walde has impressed us the whole way through: very pleasant, courteous and extremely professional. The consultant, Karin Frappa, did a wonderful job and completed the sale within a short period of time. I can't think of the slightest criticism. We have just sold a large house situated in the most beautiful location in Weinbergli as we want to downsize now the children have left home. Now we can enjoy our newfound freedom in a beautiful three-and-a-half room apartment and dedicate ourselves to our new, large permaculture garden»

«Such a special house as my grandparents' home needed to be sold by professionals. Walde were the right professionals for the job. This was clear from the exceedingly pleasant relationship I had with them. This detached house with a sculptured atrium needed a serious renovation and conversion. Finding buyers with capital who were willing to do this was challenging. My husband Moritz, who has supported me a lot through the sales process, and I have been even more impressed by how carefully Walde has managed the job and dealt with prospective buyers. You can tell they have a lot of experience. Their reliability and respectful manner made us feel very comfortable from the beginning. The result was the successful sale to a new owner with whom we are very happy. Due to the professionalism and cordiality of the entire team, we ultimately also decided to buy with Walde.»

«The sale of your own home is often associated with the start of a new chapter in your life. At the same time, it is about investments and planning. It is even more important that you get good advice and support, and for me, in addition to professionalism, trust and transparency are the be-all and end-all. With Walde, I found the perfect partner in every respect. They understood in a friendly and forthcoming way the need to establish transparent cooperation. What I have experienced from initial contact to signing and notarisation, is a genuine corporate culture based on friendliness, expertise, clarity and commitment. The experience was overwhelmingly positive: my detached house was sold very quickly. I am satisfied and would recommend Walde. The chemistry was right from the very beginning.»
